Institut Choiseul

Promoting the younger generation of African leaders

Remarkable for the youthfulness of its population, half of which will be under the age of 25 by 2050, the African continent is at the crossroads of contemporary and future global challenges.

Since 2014, when the Choiseul Africa initiative was launched, the Institut Choiseul has been keen to promote a positive speech on the African potential in order to bridge the gap between the perception of the continent - particularly from private operators -, and the reality on the ground.

In that perspective, the Choiseul 100 Africa ranking was launched in order to highlight the talent of its young economic leaders and create a network for the decision-makers who embody the dynamism of the whole continent. These champions are the first actors in the economic development of Africa on a profoundly changing international scene.

Leaders have the unique ability to both inspire others and drive change through their aura and actions for growth. Faced with the many challenges linked to the digitalisation of the continent, the urgent need for ecological transition or the necessary development of infrastructures, young African entrepreneurs have shown resilience and demonstrated their capacity to adapt.

Whether they come from the banking, energy, agri-food or infrastructure sectors, these young decision-makers are participating in the growth of the African economy and driving innovation on a national or even pan-African scale.

I am very happy to reveal this ninth edition of the Choiseul 100 Africa ranking. With 48 countries represented among the laureates and alumni; and more than 17 sectors of activity, this 2022 edition aims to reflect the diversity of the continent's talented leaders.

Producing a ranking is not enough to value the great talent of these young leaders. To go further, the Institut Choiseul has been organising events dedicated to the development of business opportunities in Africa. With the upcoming Choiseul Africa Business Forum, which will take place in Casablanca in October, we aim to achieve structuring and value-bearing partnerships and to stimulate growth dynamics on the continent.

Through the Choiseul 100 Africa ranking and the Choiseul Africa Business Forum, we are proud to promote inter- and intra-continental synergies, for a fertile business climate in Africa.

PRESENTATION

CHOISEUL 100 AFRICA

Economic Leaders of Tomorrow

The philosophy behind the study

The Choiseul 100 Africa is an annual study independently carried out by the Institut Choiseul. It identifies and ranks the young African leaders of 40 years old and below, who will play a major role in the continent's economic development in the near future.

The Choiseul 100 Africa is the result of a work conducted over several months. The Institut Choiseul reached out to many experts and specialists on the continent to achieve this ambitious and unique study which draws up an inventory of the African economic forces.

Methodology of the study

A three-phase project

March 2022

September 2022

Unfolding of the study

The Choiseul 100 Africa study was independently carried out by the Institut Choiseul between winter 2021 and fall 2022 and was based on four main steps:

- Definition of the methodology and objectives
- Update of the 2021 ranking
- Search and selection of new profiles
- Validation and preparation of the final ranking highlighting the 100 most promising young African business leaders.

Eligibility conditions

Only profiles meeting the following specific conditions have been selected :

- Being a citizen of one of the 54 African states
- Being 40 years old or below on the 31st of December 2022
- Being an active contributor to the economic development of Africa.

The selection criteria

To rank the selected profiles, several weighted criteria were taken into account such as: image and reputation, background and skills, power and function, influence and networks, potential and leadership.

The total score obtained in the different categories of criteria determines the position of each laureate in the final ranking. Profiles with less than 10% in any of the categories are eliminated.

The first 100 are ranked from the 1st to the 100th place. A second list discloses profiles ranked between the 101st and 200th place in three categories: three stars, two stars and one star.

The study was stopped on August, 31st 2022, and no career development has been taken into account after this date

General Director
Chargeurs

Dear friends, partners and laureates of the Choiseul 100 Africa ranking,

For several years now, Chargeurs has been proud to support the selection of the most promising talents from the most promising continent in the world.

Being part of the Choiseul 100 Africa Ranking is a privilege and a distinction of success, ambition and commitment.

It also means being part of an ever-expanding community, beyond borders and continents.

Chargeurs celebrates its 150th anniversary in 2022. Our company is a diversified family group dedicated to the technology, luxury and media sectors. We are present in more than 100 countries on 5 continents.

Our international reach, in businesses where we are the world leader, allows us to shape our high value-added niche activities, to stand the test of time and crises, and to grow in a profitable and responsible manner.

We share with the Institut Choiseul, and its President Pascal Lorot, the same values of audacity, reliability, innovation and ambition.

By honoring us with the first place in the Choiseul 100 France 2022 ranking, the Institut has offered us the testimony of its valorization of entrepreneurship.

We hope that this new promotion of the Choiseul 100 Africa ranking will be ambitious and united in the service of the most beautiful projects for our two continents,

Congratulations and see you soon.

Emmanuel GADRET

General Director
Deloitte Afrique Francophone

Our partnership with the Institut Choiseul is part of a twofold common ambition: identifying the best talents and impacting positively the continent. As a leading African actor of professional services, Deloitte Afrique Francophone is defined first and foremost by its 1,500 African professionals serving 19 countries in North Africa (Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia), West Africa (WAEMU area) and Central Africa (CEMAC area). At the continent's scale, more than 9,000 employees divided in 51 offices support both public and private actors in the realization of their strategic projects. The strong growth of our activities, driven by a dynamic and attractive continent, lead us to recruit nearly 300 professionals per year, in French-speaking Africa alone.

This ambitious goal urges us to address the challenges of identification, education and retention of our talents. Like the Choiseul ranking, we are looking for tomorrow's talents, not only the men and women who will constitute our top management, but also the young talents and the "middle management", guarantee of the sustainability of our activities. Our professions are technical: Deloitte provides professional services in various areas: Consulting, Audit, Legal audit, legal and tax advisory, Risk Advisory, Financial Advisory and Outsourcing of Accounting and Financial functions. Moreover, our activities require other skills such as: cultural agility, collective intelligence, ability to manage multi-jobs team and thorough knowledge of the local ecosystems.

Lastly, our employees are driven by the willingness to impact the economic and social development of the continent's communities. Our ambition «Make an impact that matters» finds its meaning in Africa probably more there than in any other area of the world. The strategic projects on which we work with our clients very often have a direct impact on the economic development, contributing to jobs creation, the improvement of governance, the funding of structuring projects, and the implementation of international standards better adapted to Africa. This is this objective motivating our employees and the laureates of this this ranking.

Each and every one of them contributes to this goal. We congratulate this year's laureates, as well as those from previous editions, who by their function and influence, impact the continent and thus its international influence.

Laurent Benarousse
 Managing Partner & Member of the Supervisory Board
Roland Berger France

A few weeks before the COP 27, which will be held in Africa this year, the climate issue is on everyone's mind, especially Africans. The continent, which is home to 17% of the world's population, is responsible for only 3 to 4% of CO₂ emissions according to the International Energy Agency (IEA). Yet it is extremely exposed to the consequences of global warming. According to the African Development Bank (ADB), Africa has suffered 131 extreme weather events (storms, droughts and floods) in the last two years. The continent is particularly vulnerable to these disasters because it is still insufficiently prepared.

In this worrying context, African leaders recently organised two events to discuss solutions to this pressing issue: the African Climate Week (ACW 2022) in Libreville, and the Summit on Africa's adaptation to climate change in Rotterdam. They called for increased global funding to support the continent's endeavour in the fight against global warming. A report by the Climate Policy Initiative published this year estimates that Africa receives only 12% of the $250 billion it needs annually, notably to adopt green technologies.

Bearing this analysis, those leaders have called on Africa to take its destiny in hand. Gabonese President Ali Bongo Ondimba emphasised that the continent was «blessed with all the necessary assets for sustainable prosperity, natural resources, land, impressive biodiversity and the youngest and largest working population in the world». Aware of the need to address these issues, the new generation of leaders emerging has taken on board the fact that sustainability and the fight against global warming must go hand in hand with growth.

It is in this context that we renewed once again the partnership between Roland Berger and the Institut Choiseul. The Choiseul 100 Africa initiative highlights young leaders who are participating in the implementation of innovative solutions to the climate crisis: adaptation projects in the agricultural sector such as the FARM (Food and Agriculture Resilience Mission) initiative, the Great Green Wall, or the construction of infrastructures capable of withstanding climate shocks.

We too are convinced that urgent action is needed. After having achieved carbon neutrality in 2020, Roland Berger has set a target of zero net emissions by 2028. With our in-depth knowledge of these issues and our presence on the African continent for many years, we encourage all initiatives that go in this direction.

Congratulations to the laureates of this year's ranking for their crucial role in the development of Africa. We wish them all the best for the future!

Guy SIDOS

Chief Executive Officer
Vicat

The recent crises have not marred the incredible dynamism of the African continent, which is undergoing spectacular societal and economic changes. Africa is a young continent full of promises. By 2050, 4 out of every 10 people under the age of 20 will be African. Soon the continent will have one billion neo-urbanites. Supporting this urban growth is essential, even vital. The need for infrastructure, housing, schools, hospitals and economic activity zones is on the scale of these changes, which will also have to meet the challenge of climate change if the continent is to be habitable.

The urgency of the needs on such a short time scale is unprecedented. We must do well, but also do quick, and this in all sectors of activity. This will only be possible with the development of the skills and qualifications of the workforce, without which there will be no improvement in quality at all, whatever the technologies used. In that respect, the evolution of Africa's new economic elites is thrilling. The Choiseul 100 Africa ranking is an excellent example. It gives very positive signals for all investors interested in this continent of the future. Its laureates embody the dynamism and renewal of Africa, and carry the hopes of a whole generation.

For twenty years, the Vicat cement group has been present in Africa with a simple strategy: produce locally in order to build locally. We are convinced that future economic development models will have to limit the carbon footprint of product logistics and people's movements. In addition to the quality of industrial processes, proximity is a major asset. This is why we have invested heavily in Africa in efficient, environmentally friendly cement plants and industrial facilities, whose value creation or employment brings economic and social benefits in the areas where we operate. Our Corporate Foundations are involved as closely as possible in the field to promote the values of Louis Vicat, which resonate with those of La Francophonie.

Cement is the building material for the future of Africa, just as it is on the global scale. There is currently no equivalent material that is modern, easy to use and affordable on the scale of the continent's construction needs. The latest R&D developments show that it is best suited to short circular economy chains, integrating the material or energy recovery of waste produced by human activities. As such, it is a very relevant response to African challenges.

Our teams reflect the continent's dynamism: passionate, committed and willing. We are proud to be partners of the Choiseul 100 Africa, which promotes and encourages economic decision-makers to build a better and more humane world.

ABOUT THE INSTITUT CHOISEUL

The Institut Choiseul is an independent, non-partisan and non-profit think and do tank. It is dedicated to deciphering the major economic issues and to uniting the young economic generation.

To fuel public debate and embody current economic dynamics, the Institut Choiseul produces Strategic Notes, occasional studies, and rankings of young leaders. To federate and animate its communities, it organizes high-level events combining convivial networking, testimonies of experts and practitioners as well as exchanges on prospective subjects, in different territories and across economic topics, in France, Europe and Africa.

The launch of the Choiseul Africa initiative by the Institut Choiseul was presided over by the ambition to view Africa with confidence and optimism, to highlight the tremendous assets of this promising continent and to build a unique network of economic leaders on the whole continent.

The Choiseul Africa adventure began in 2014 with the creation of the Choiseul 100 Africa – The Economic Leaders of Tomorrow. Going beyond a ranking, the Choiseul 100 Africa is an unparalleled network of pan-African influence. With more than 500 active members present in 47 of the 54 countries on the continent, it has established itself over the years as the exclusive community of leaders gathering highly skilled actors of change taking the reins of the economy and decision-making bodies in Africa.
